DEDICATION

The Senior Class of 1954 dedicate this yearbook to Mr. V. Scott Garman. His unselfish attitude toward students and his genuine efforts in forwarding leadership in our school will long be remembered.

APPRECIATION

We, the Palm Echo Staff of 1954, express our sincere appreciation to Mr. William H. Bolger for his ceaseless time and efforts in helping us make this yearbook a successful publication.

CLASS HISTORY

One eventful September day in 1941, we were a group of innocent, frightened, and uneducated boys and girls eagerly awaiting to begin our adventure of the next twelve years, which would transform us into mature, dignified, and fully educated ladies and gentlemen. Having acquired our poise, knowledge, and various skills, we are now ready to graduate. On our departure we wish to leave behind this history which will forever be recorded upon these pages.

We were first taught our ABC's by Miss Bixler, Miss Green, and Miss Turby. Discipline was made easier for our teachers because of our fear of a phantom paddling machine which was supposedly kept in the office. The girls were terrified to go down to the basement for their chocolate milk because the big bad boys always hid behind the steps to scare them. Wilbur Smith and Ruth Anna Smith made big plans to elope because their last names were the same. Also Carl Hoffer took great pleasure in chasing the girls around the room trying to kiss them.

After our first experience with school, we welcomed summer vacation, but by September we were ready to set out on our second year. Mrs. Baer, Miss Staik, and Mrs. Witner had the pleasure of tutoring our eager little minds. This year was the beginning of a great romance between Shirley Longenecker and Karl Shenk. Miss Staik found it necessary to put blinders on Roger Forry because he had wandering eyes. At our annual Halloween party Janet Rudegear had the honor of being the last one guessed. We must have been awfully bad that year because the corners of Miss Staik's room were always filled.

After a summer of fun and leisure, we entered third grade. Miss Baum, Miss Berry, and Miss Moyer took up the difficult job of educating us. This year Ruth Longenecker had to stand in the hall because she talked too much. Our favorite pastime now was the never-to-be-forgotten "wars" between the girls and the boys. When we were at peace, we joined our forces in numerous games of Red Rover and Three Step Minky. A great dramatic production, the "Sleeping Beauty" was presented this year with Lois Jones and Paul Lehman in the leading roles. At this time the big thrill of our lives was when by hook or crook, we acquired a piece of the treasured bubble gum.

Before we knew it, we found ourselves in fourth grade where our teachers were Miss Evans, Mrs. Heisey, and Miss Imboden. A new organization, the Play Mate Club, came into existence with June Fridy, Mary Louise Kline, and Nancy Grace all trying to run it. At this time, Kenny Lehman got a crush on Cathy Hoover, who had just joined us from Annville. A major crime was committed when Herb Meily, who always ate his lunch at school, was caught reading ahead in the "Times and Places" book. Miss Evan's faith in him was temporarily shattered. A new romance blossomed out this year between Marianne Reider and Bob Farnsler. I'm sure Miss Imboden's pupils will never forget the staggering load of homework imposed upon them that year.

Time marches on. Assuming the responsibility of our fifth grade education were Mrs. Bomberger, Mrs. Eby, and Miss Seltzer. Madeline Lehman caused quite an excitement when she dropped the fish bowl and it broke on the radiator with fish all over the floor. Rodney Killian had to stand in the closet because he asked Bobbie Unger how the weather was in there. Miss Seltzer made him see for himself. About this time Anita Wentling and Faye Bucks got snowsuits alike; everybody thought they were twins.

At last we arrived in sixth grade, "big wheels" now. Undertaking the tremendous task of teaching such an outstanding group were Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Long, and Mrs. Wagner. Our health habits were immensely improved by Mrs. Daniel's rigid inspection lines, punctuated by frequent ruler slaps for dirty fingernails. Our manpower was greatly increased by Jack Brandt, Dale Dry, and Donnie Firestone. Peggy Wolfgang was princess of the Harvest Moon Ball. One day the "Big Five", Nancy Poorman, Mary Lou Gingrich, Carol Moyer, Eileen Tittle, and Janice Gingrich, went to Mrs. Daniel's house to find out who had the nicest legs because they couldn't make the decision themselves. No one has given in yet! The big thrill came in reading class when the new method of boy-calls-on-girl was established. That year Mrs. Long's class took an exciting trip to Philadelphia.

The following year as timid, bashful seventh graders in our new environment, we were quite different from the self-assured, boisterous sixth graders that were before. We could easily be picked out from the veterans because we always had our faces buried in our schedule cards.

Having struggled our way through seventh, we entered eighth grade a little more wise in the ways of high school. However in the mad rush from gym class one day, Joyce Capp came into math class with her skirt inside out. Highlighting our freshman year was the variety show we put on in assembly. Much hidden talent was discovered through this production. We were very proud of our blue and white class jackets which now became a common sight around the school.

As sophomores, we sponsored our first big dance, the Disc Dance. It was a great success. The geometry class proved very versatile by developing its own mixed chorus. That year we had a mock wedding at the Latin party. Johnny Shenk and Carol Mark tried so hard to be a serious bride and groom.

Now we were Juniors and had almost reached our goal. Driver Training was established at P.H.S., and suddenly everyone possessed a driver's license. At Christmas we received our attractive class rings which we had all eagerly awaited. We sponsored the Jr. Sr. Prom, which was the big event of the year.

Seniors at last! Now we are eagerly awaiting graduation, which is the final goal of all our school days. We bid a grateful farewell to all those who have made this graduation possible through their guidance and instruction.

Sint difficultates parvae.
(May your troubles all be little ones.)

CLASS PROPHECY

As the mist clears from Madame Zaza's Mystic Crystal, our future unfolds before our astonished eyes. Some of the revelations may seem practically unbelievable, but remember, Madame Zaza sees all, knows all, and tells all.

Appearing first in our mystic crystal is the picturesque Rose Bowl game in which we see scorekeeper Eva Wagner has become very confused by the many touchdowns made by Donnie Firestone, Russ Teahl, Glenn Bashore, and Jack Brandt. Famed sports announcer, John Shenk, gives a vivid account of the game. Janice Shirk makes a lovely queen of this gala event. Heading the snappy band is high-stepping majorette, Peg Kreiser.

Moving on in the world of sports, we see the Bloomer Babes from Bushville High coached by Mary Lou Gingrich fighting it out with the Sneaky Six of Shrub City High coached by Ruth Longenecker for the state basketball championship. As you know Faye Bucks has become captain of the international girls' hockey team of which Carl Hoffer is the sole owner.

Next we see a large chain of markets, owned and operated exclusively by Barbara Bucher. Incidentally, she receives most of the produce for it from the spacious acres of Ruth Anna and Mel's farm.

Coming into view is an enormous building which is the headquarters for a giant secretive business run by Roger Forry. We know this must be a very important business, although we don't quite know what it is. Working for him are many efficient secretaries: Madeline Lehman, Delores Cobaugh, Marianne Reider, Gail Smith, Miriam Yeich, and Phyllis Peters.

Interesting to note, Nancy Felker has become a door to door saleswoman for the Lebanon Valley Petroleum, Inc. We see Joyce Capp, medical receptionist, rushing home to prepare supper for Milt and all the little Garrisons.

Cathy and Derr are crazy about their lovely new home on Forge Acres.

Gazing upward we can detect Carl Umberger and Danny Blackwell being arrested by Rodney Killian, interplanetary cop, for exceeding the speed limit between Mars and Earth in their hot-rod rockets, which are kept in excellent condition by expert mechanic, Bert Gussler.

Pauline Blouch has just written a book entitled "100 Easy Ways to Stay Out of School."

Sylvia Adey, famous violinist, is now kept busy with Bud, Jr.

Janice Gingrich and Carol Mark were honored by being voted two of the Ten Best Dressed Women in America.

A thriving dating bureau catering to all men from six to sixty has been opened by Erelene Hinkle, Rhodamae Kleinfelter, and Shirley Longenecker.

Donnie Herr is the proud operator of the "Safe and Sound" taxi service in New York City. He got his experience dodging noon hour traffic at P.H.S.

Ellie and Kennie Lehman have recently moved into a beautiful new home which Ken built entirely by himself.

Nancy Landis has made good use of her chemistry classes by inventing a new, improved formula for peroxide.

Nancy Grace is having a difficult time trying to teach Shirley Klopp's youngest to play the piano.

Amelia Lauck is the new Manager of Lauck's store with Fay Heilman and Mary Ellen Heisey as head clerks.

Bob Farnsler was awarded the title of World's Greatest Bigamist. Running in close competition were Fred Neiswender and Bruce Stark. My how they have changed since their days in P.H.S.!

Academy award winning actress, Eileen Tittle, is still breaking the hearts of her many admirers.

Popular model, Pat Schimpf, whose hairstyling is done by her private beautician, Janet Rudegeair, has been featured in Glamour, Mademoiselle, and Vogue. Designing the model's exotic new creations are Janet Umberger and Lois Jones.

June Fridy has now become head nurse at Lankenau Hospital. Elnora Long and Peggy Wolfgang are successful nurses at the Polyclinic.

As we gaze across the continent we see Wilbur Smith doing a fine job teaching African children.

Concert pianist, Anita Wentling, is already famous for her performances in Carnegie Hall.

Nancy's and Boyd's quintettes compose the entire P.H.S. basketball team.

Looking into the entertainment world we see Audrey Spancake has become famous for her outstanding portrayals of Lady Macbeth. Monk Swartz has replaced Milton Berle as King of Comedy on television. T.V. star Marian Lefever, who began her career on Channel 15, is well known for her yodeling.

In Mary Eby's first grade class are Gayle's and Roy's little girl and Verna's and Paul's little boy.

Marcia Jackson has been arrested by F.B.I. man Dick Stover for stealing hearts.

Shirley Trostle has finally cut her hair and sold it to Dale Dry, as his hasn't grown back since he cut it.

Emylou and Carl are busy raising their little wrestling champs.

Herb Meily, who long ago replaced Einstein, is congratulating Ken Plessinger on discovering the fourth dimension.

Janet Root has made a name for herself, as she is the only person ever to out-talk Godfrey.

Howard Summy has become chef of the Waldorf Astoria. I wonder why their patronage is suddenly decreasing.

Lois Wagner has worked her way up from county treasurer to first woman president of the U.S.

Paul Lehman has made big money selling the "Motts" to the Smithsonian Institute. No wonder he's kept it all these years.

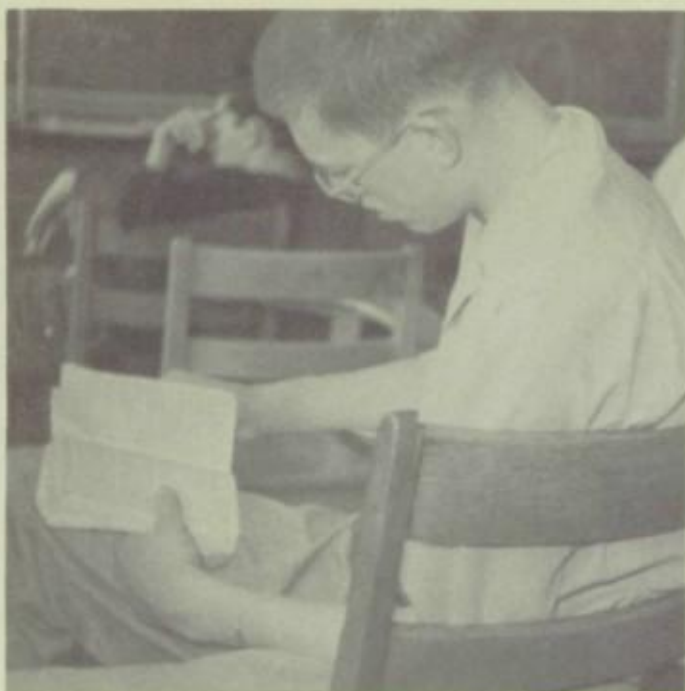

Marietta Shuey has become housemother of a large Industrial School Unit.

Mac Seely earns a huge salary as head publicity man of the U.S. Navy.

Thelma Lebo has taken Dorothy Dix's place as writer of Advice to the Lovelorn.

Ronnie Yeich made a small fortune by writing killer-thriller pocket books. He got his information from the many he read in school.

This is our future as Madame Zaza predicts. Only time will tell whether her predictions will come true.

This is really deep!!

I'll be over at 7:00

Don't believe a word of it!

Tell us more, We're all ears!

Oh those trig classes when Mr. Bolger was late!

...and don't come back till you have a pass.

Please don't blow up the lab, fellows!

Speed typist at work.

Wake up, Cathy! The bell rang.

CLASS WILL

We, the 1954 Senior Class of Palmyra High School, realizing that our school days are now at an end, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our first, last, and only will and testament.

First---We will and bequeath to the entire student body all the opportunities of learning and the many good times we've had in P.H.S. along with our loyalty and devotion to our Alma Mater.

Second---To the faculty we leave our appreciation for everything they have done for us throughout our years in P.H.S.

Third---To the Juniors we bestow all our intelligence, good looks, and dignity which will be a great aid to them as Seniors.

Fourth---To the Sophomores we leave all our tried and true excuses which we have compiled through the years.

Fifth---To the Freshmen we give anything else of value we possess which might help them get through their next three years.

We leave Sylvia Adey's violin playing to Bob Meyer.

Danny Blackwell, Dale Dry, and Rodney Killian leave their boots to Bill Melhorn, Donald Heilman, and Wilbur Daub.

Pauline Blouch's hooky playing to Nancy Bachman.

Barbara Bucher's quietness to Jeanette Lehman.

Delores Cobaugh's ability to clown to Herm Gutshall.

Opella Daubert's shyness in class to Doris Page.

Mary Eby's position of Year Book editor to a worthy successor.

Nancy Felker's and Gayle Kimmel's left-over boyfriends to anybody in need of one.

Donnie Firestone's and Glenn Bashore's all around athletic ability to next year's teams.

Roger Forry's ability to fake on the bass horn to Fureman.

June Fridy's editorship of the High Times to Marilyn Kreider.

Bert Gussler's jokes to Wilbur Daub.

Fay Heilman's and Mary Ellen Heisey's jobs in the five-and-ten to Cathy Stover and Mary O'Brien.

Donnie Herr's ability to read "Macbeth" to next year's English classes.

Ereleene Hinkle's car to Berman's junk yard.

Marcia Jackson's accent to Jim Shepard.

Rhodamae Kleinfelter's naturally curly hair to Marlene Longenecker.

Shirley Klopp's well-worn tardy excuses to Carl Diener.

Peg Kreiser's position as head majorette to Mickey Murphy.

Nancy Landis's "Blonde" hair to Mary Ann Wenger.

Amelia Lauck's organ playing to Francis Rodeffer.

Thelma Lebo's boy troubles to Martha Barto.

Marion Lefever's yodeling ability to Naomi Bashore.

Elnora Long's "Pepsodent smile" to Beverly Simmers.

Herb Meiley's brains to all future classes.

Fred Neiswender's bashfulness to Edgar Gish.

Phyllis Peter's card games with "Howdy" to another lucky girl.

Ken Plessinger's attempts to blow up the Physics lab to John Gingrich.

Nancy Poorman's swing to Miss Adams.

Verna Reese's diamond to Kay Frantz.

Janet Root's peppy personality to Joyce May.

Pat Schimpf's good looks to Donna Dimm.

Mac Seely's 25¢ novels to anyone who is bored with school.

Eleanor Shay's interest in the Lehman's to Bobby Kapp.

Janice Shirk's crown to next year's queen.

Marietta Shuey's love of skating to Margaret Parsons.

Gail Smith's height to Eileen Lehman.

Emylou Snavely's singing ability to Norma Wentling.

Audrey Spancake's interest in underclassmen to Faye Smith.

Bruce Stark, Dick Stover, and Ronnie Yeich leave their "know-how" for getting kicked out of English class to any Juniors wishing to acquire this art.

Howard Summy's sleeping in Math Class to Henry Landis.

Monk Swartz's clowning to Bob Matthews.

Russ Teahl's and Jack Brandt's power on the grid-iron to Dave Yohn and Randy Garrison.

Shirley Trostle's long hair to Judy Hunsicker.

Janet Umberger's ability to flirt to Janet Hetrick.

Carl Umberger's wavy hair to Mr. Schule.

Eva Wagner's build to Blanche Geib.

Lois Wagner's commercial ability to Nate Wagner.

Miriam Yeich's ability to write essays for the opposite sex to Mabel Gerlock.

The Senior girls' interest in H.J.C. to the Junior girls.

To Mrs. Cobello we leave the task of finding an accompanist for her choirs now that Anita and Eileen have graduated.

To Miss Adams we leave the peace and quiet she never had while we were here.

The 106 homeroom leaves its humble thanks to Mr. Shupper for relieving the monotony of an all girl homeroom.

12-1 leaves its punctuality in getting to typing class to next year's class.

The boys of 12-2 leave "Firechief" Scott Garman a fire extinguisher.

The 12-3 German class leave Mr. Loy their original endings to "Immensee" to add to his collection.

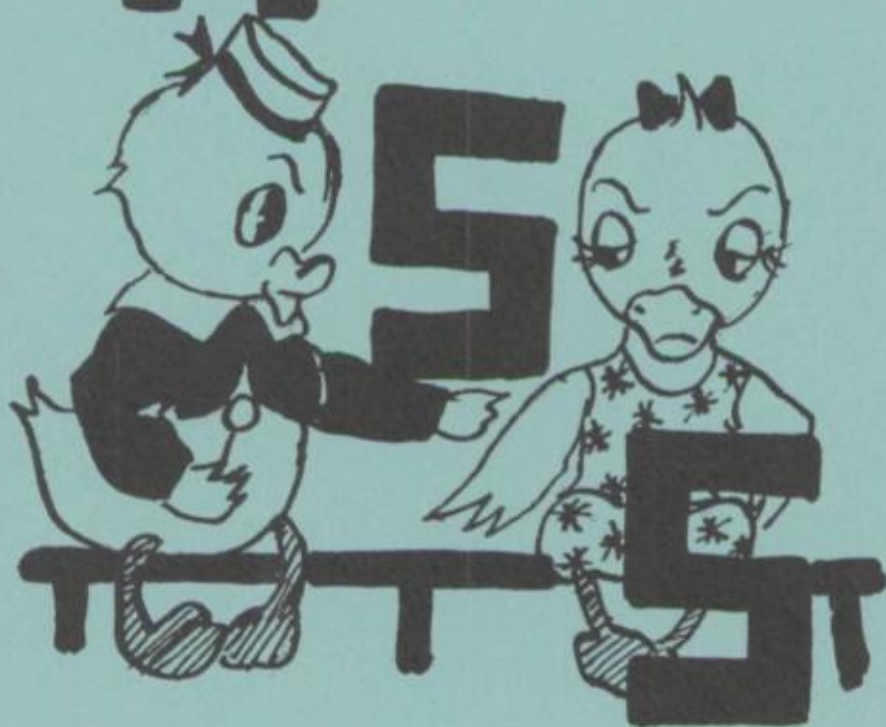

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and affixed our seal at our high school in the City of Palmyra and the State of Pennsylvania, this the 13th day of May, 1954, A.D.

WHAT HAS OUR MUSIC DEPARTMENT ACCOMPLISHED?

Our music departments have accomplished much to be proud of during the past year. The choruses presented a Christmas Candlelight Service and also a most enjoyable Spring Concert. The Girls Glee Club presented several appropriate selections at Baccalaureate, while the Junior Choir put on a variety show for the P. T. A. The Girls Ensemble, composed of twelve talented girls of the senior class, entertained many of the civic groups of Palmyra, the Milton Hershey School, the Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary, the Campbelltown Community Party, and participated in the Commencement Exercises.

The Band made several successful recordings for the Lebanon radio station, and also gave a performance at the annual band concert. It participated in many parades such as the Halloween Parade and the Memorial Day Parade. It has been noted for its precision and willingness to perform for us at every football game.

We can well be proud of the never-tiring work of our excellent music department.

CLUB ACHIEVEMENTS

During the past year our club activities have been numerous and varied. The Future Homemakers of America sent clothing packages to Korea and Christmas parcels to the crippled children's home. They made and sold candy apples at the football games, had a swimming and a bowling party, several food sales, a delightful New Year's Eve dance, and a mother-daughter banquet to climax the years' activities. The Business Club was entertained by interesting movies and speakers, a tour of several banks and the Farm Bureau, and a farewell party for the seniors. A picnic, dances, parties, and a wonderful assembly were the highlights of the activities of the German Club. Speakers and singing also added to the making of enjoyable club periods. The Hi-Y Club sponsored a dance, had teen talks, and also sent representatives to the All-State Model Government and the Executive Council of the South-Central District. The Biology Club had many individual and group projects, which were carried out successfully by its members, while the Science Club went on a trip to Millard's Lime Plant, did work on fingerprinting, and on several other projects. The Art Club should be commended for the excellent decorations which they provided for the Spring Concert, Christmas Candelight Service, Class Play, and various other activities during the year.

Although the Palms were undefeated in Conference of the Roses play, they were nosed out by Columbia for the title because of the "point system."

In the season opener at Ephrata the Palms came out on top by a 20-0 margin as Russ Teahl scored on the opening play. The home opener then saw Palmyra defeat Litiz 28-12 before almost three thousand fans.

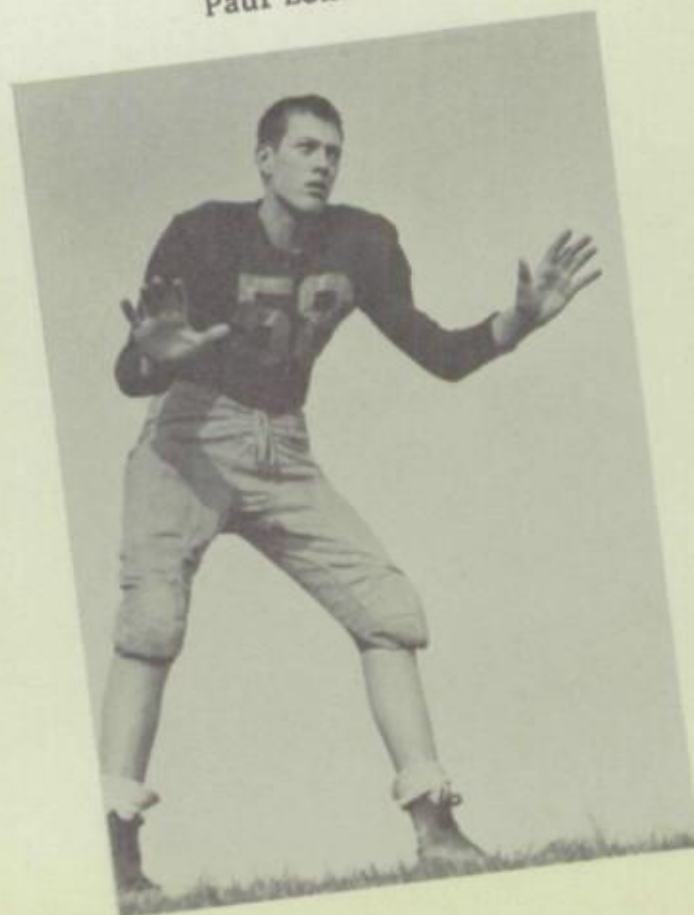

The Palms suffered their lone loss of the season in bowing to Hershey 25-7. Don Firestone ran 85-yards for our lone score. The Orange and Black then bounced back by trouncing both Solanco and Manheim Twp, by a 34-0 count.

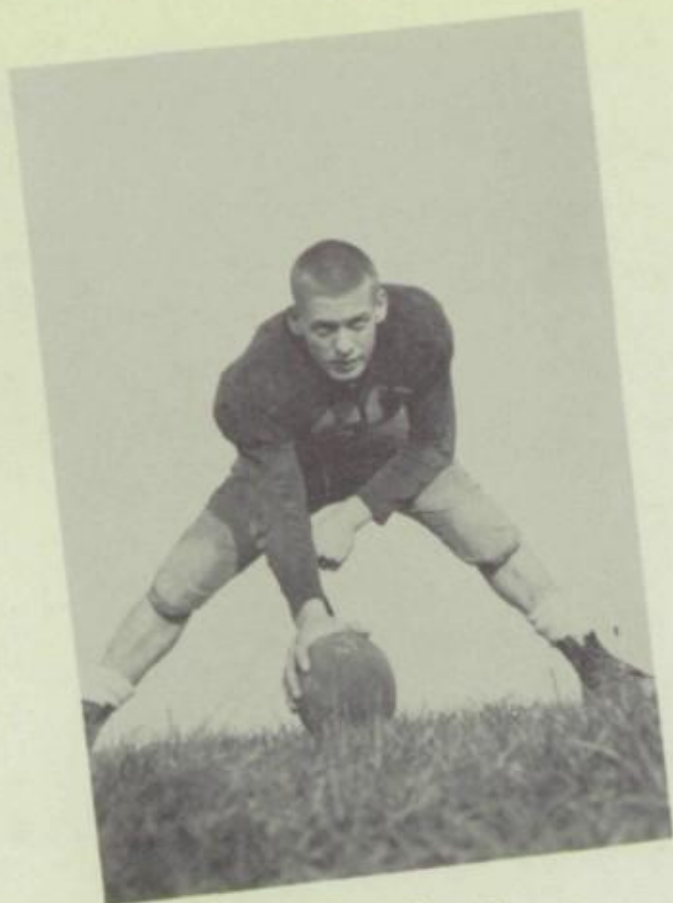

At Swatara Palmyra emerged from a hardfought contest with a 13-7 win. The game was marked by terrific defensive play on both sides. The Palms continued on their winning ways by shutting out Biglerville and Manheim Boro by identical scores of 26-0.

In the final game of the season Palmyra thumped E-Town 35-6 as Gleen Bashore scored on long runs of 71 and 55 yards. This game brought their record to eight wins and one loss. It was also the twenty-seventh consecutive league game without a loss.

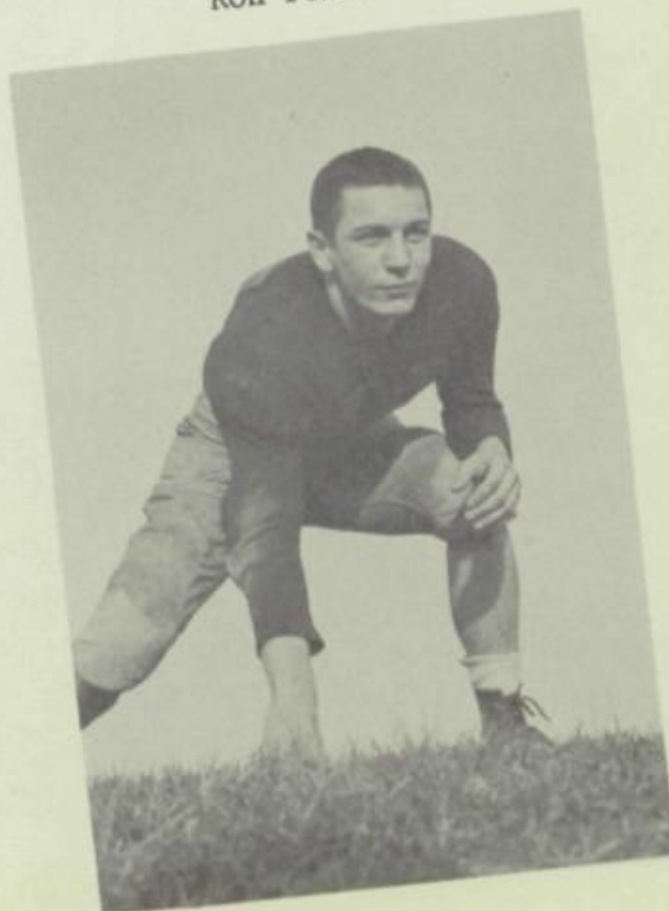

The entire team and coaching staff did a great job throughout this memorable season.

The boys on this page and the preceding page have played their last game as members of the Palmyra High School football team. All of them contributed a great deal to the success of the team, and their absence will surely be felt by Coach Shupper in future years. Their inspiration and spirit will long be remembered as well as their tremendous playing ability.

KNEELING, left to right: Mary Lou Gingrich, Eleanor Shay, co-captains.

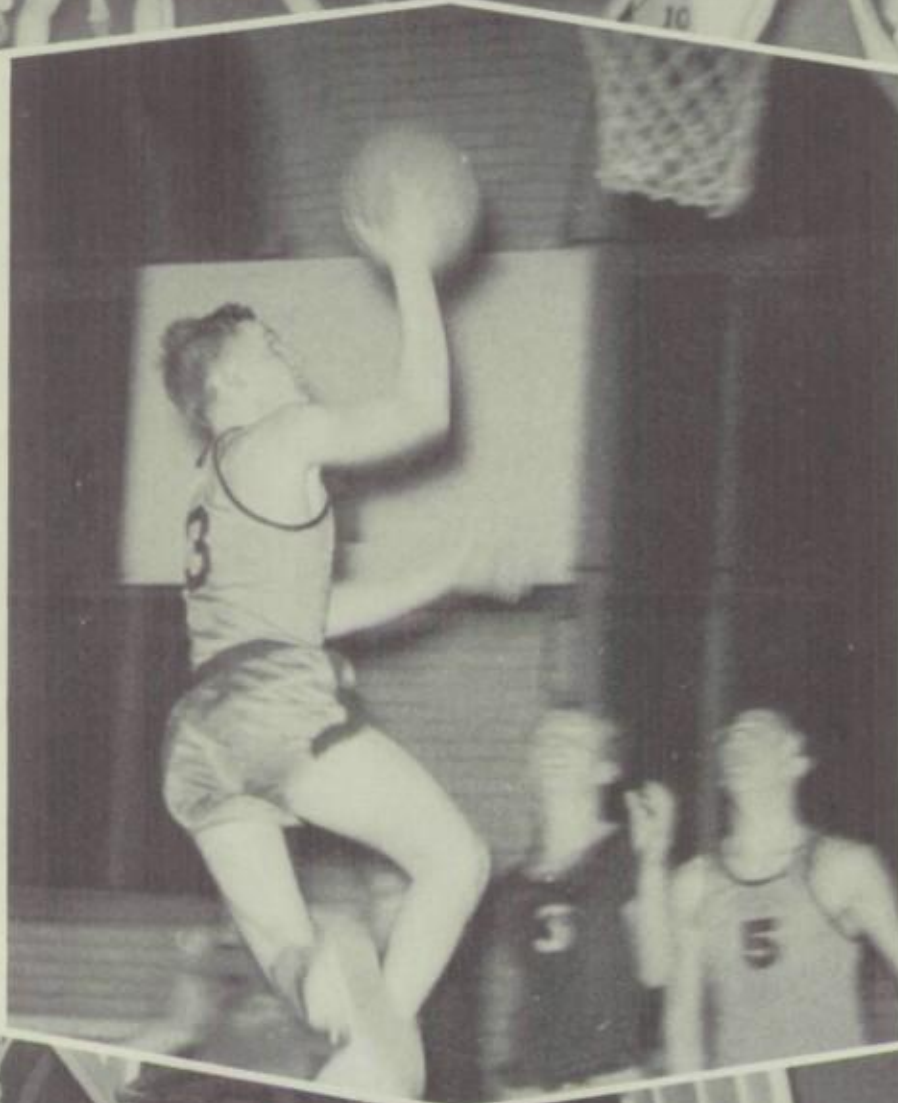

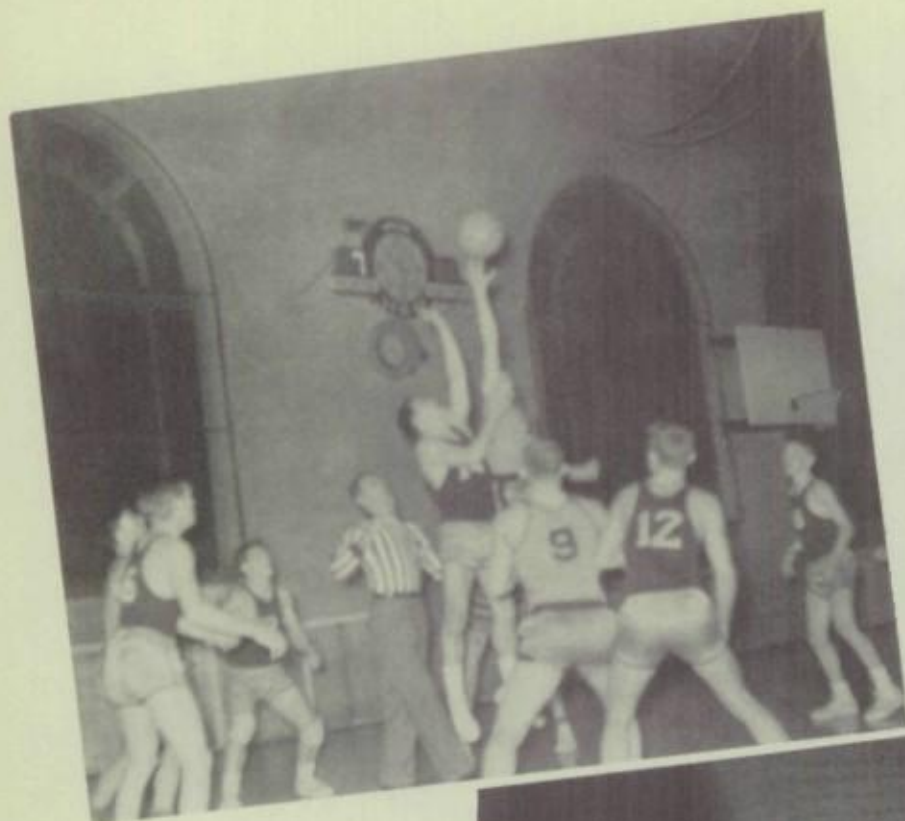

The 1953 season has been most successful for hockey. With only a few practices the team unexpectedly came out on top when it faced the rough competition of Annville, Myerstown, and South Lebanon teams at playday. By winning two games and tying one, the team displayed a marvelous example of good playing and sportsmanship. We can be proud of their records and achievements.

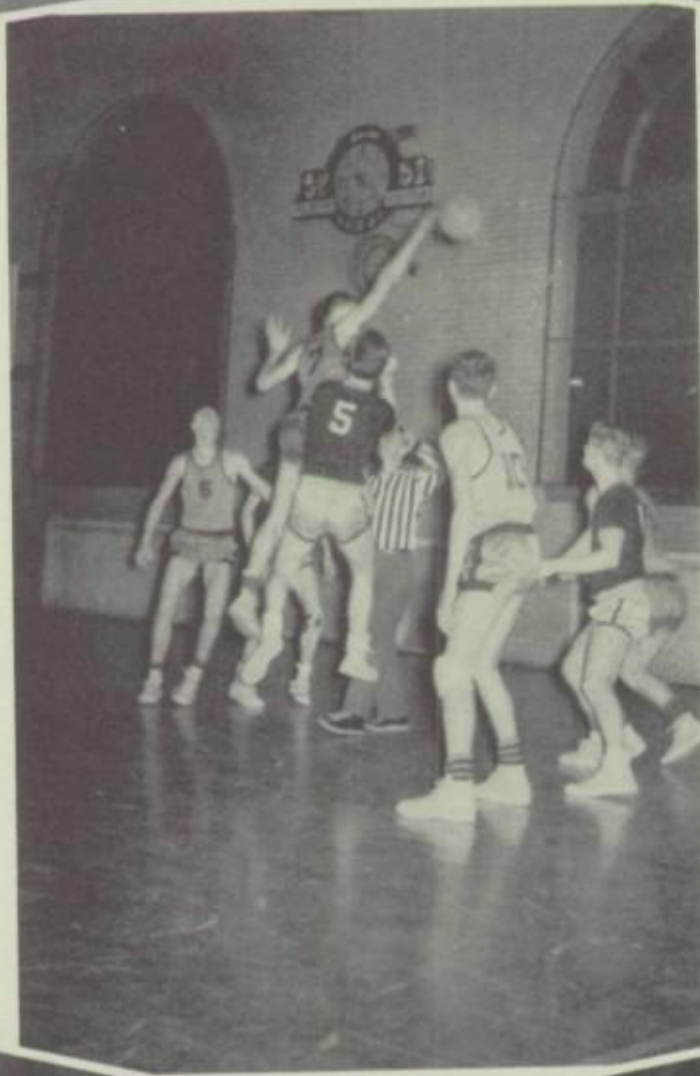

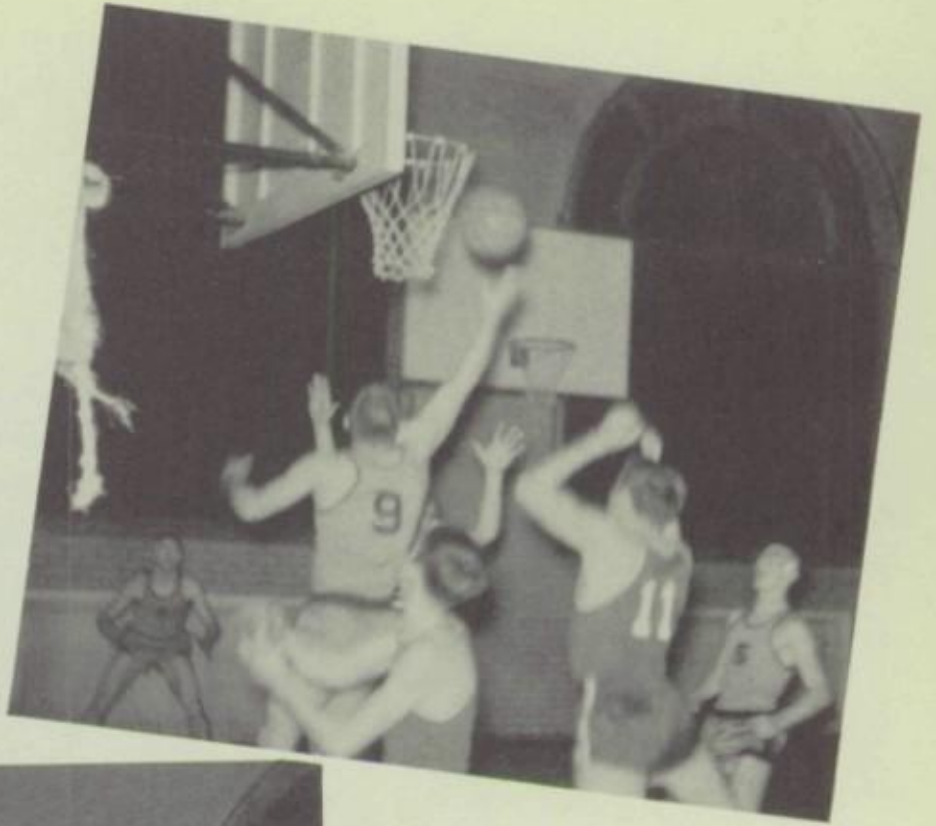

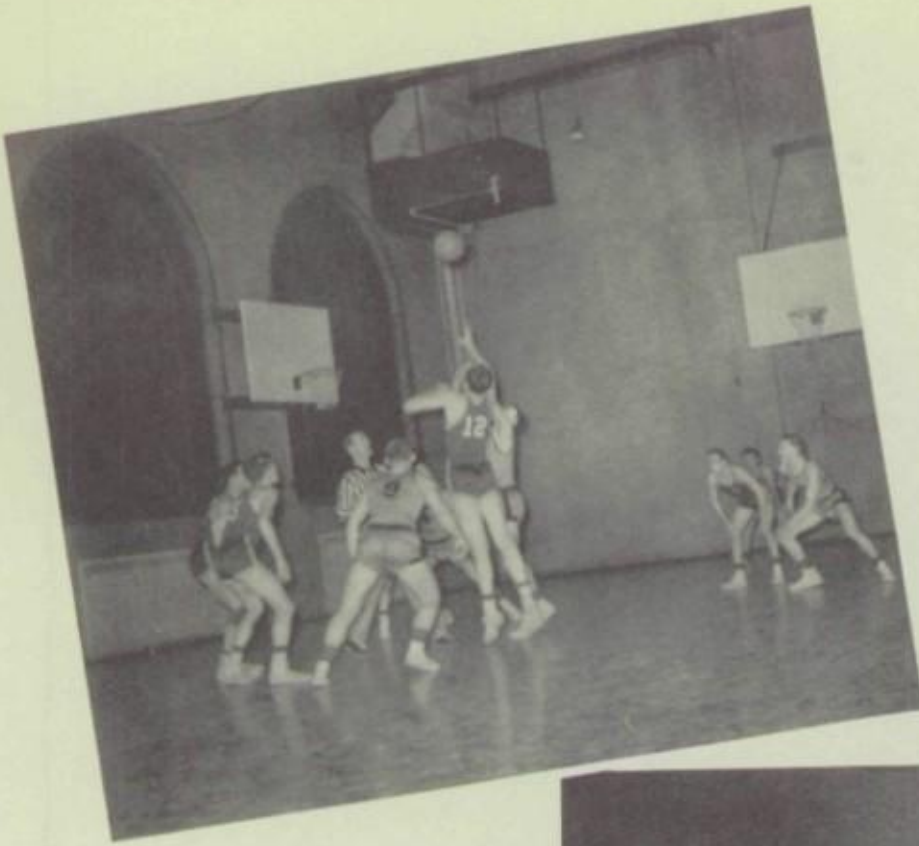

Coach: Mrs. Downin

Members of Hockey Playday All-star teams.

In their quest for a fourth consecutive county league championship the Palms were halted by a well-balanced Annville quintet. However, it was a highly successful season as they posted an overall record of thirteen wins and five losses.

Don Firestone and John Yohn were elected to the first string Lebanon County All-Star Team, a tribute to the ability of these two outstanding players.

This squad will be remembered for their fine spirit and team co-operation. Lack of height proved to be their downfall. Both coach and team did a tremendous job throughout the season.

In compiling a fine record of thirteen wins and five losses the members of the Junior Varsity established themselves as varsity material for the ensuing year. The team was very well-balanced as each member was a scoring threat. Their accurate shooting ability proved to be their main asset.

Give it a whack, somebody!

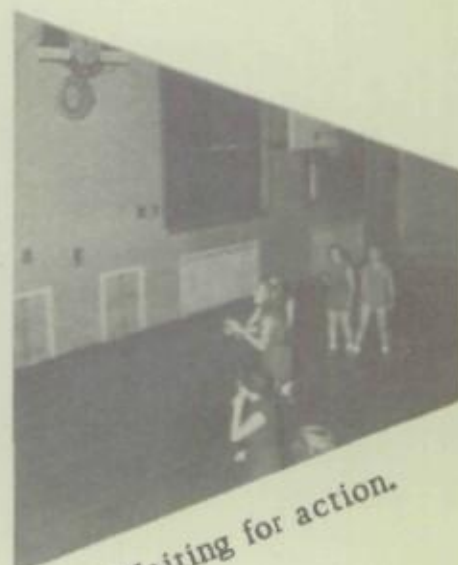

Where's the birdie?

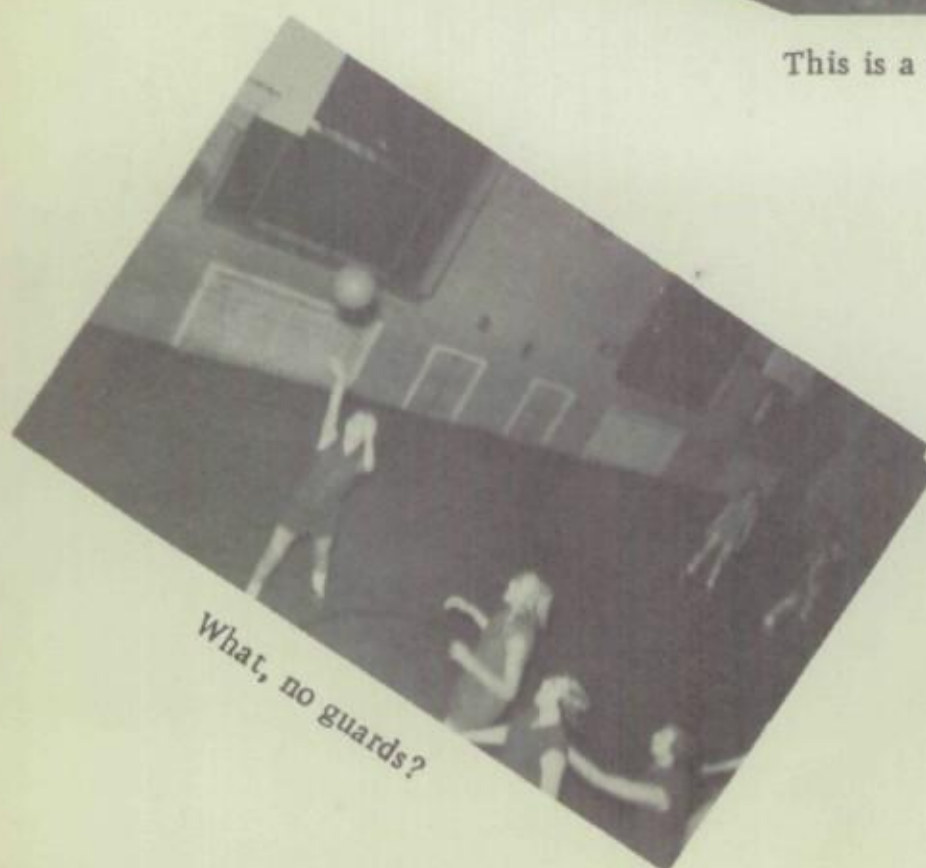

Is that a pitcher in the distance?

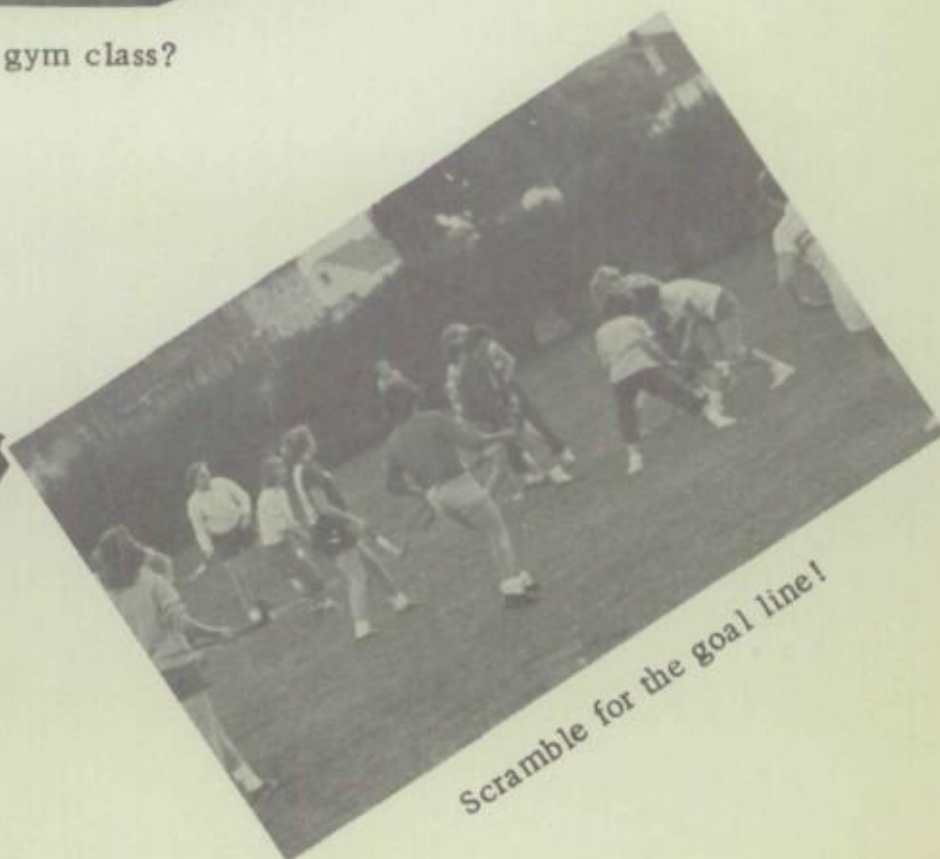

This is a gym class?

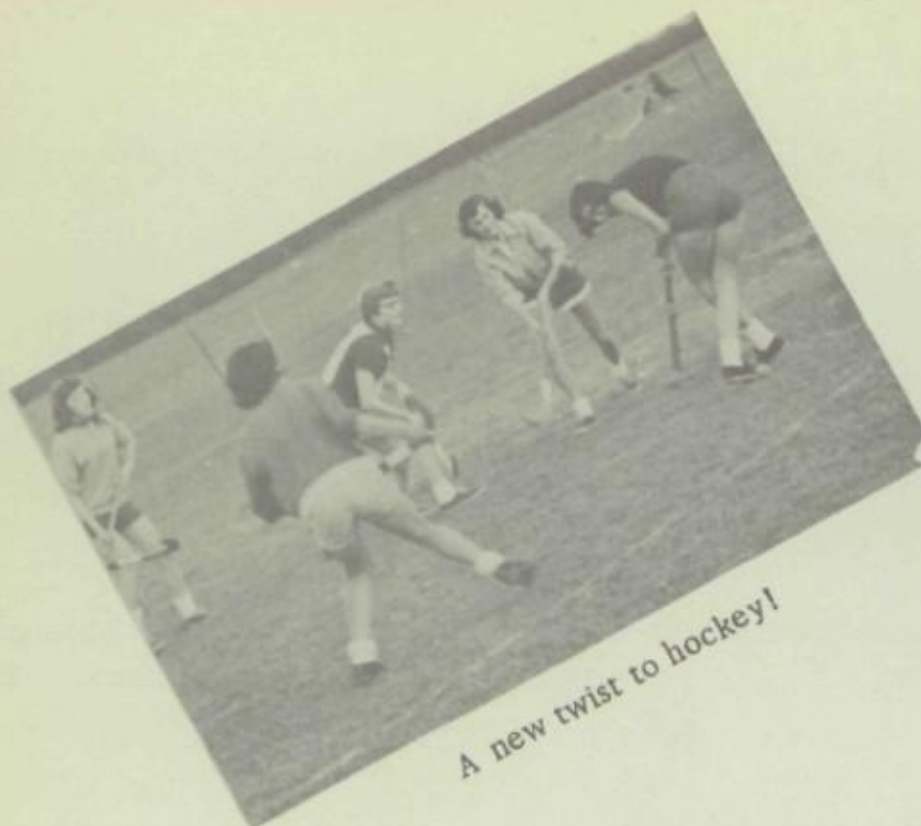

Waiting for action.

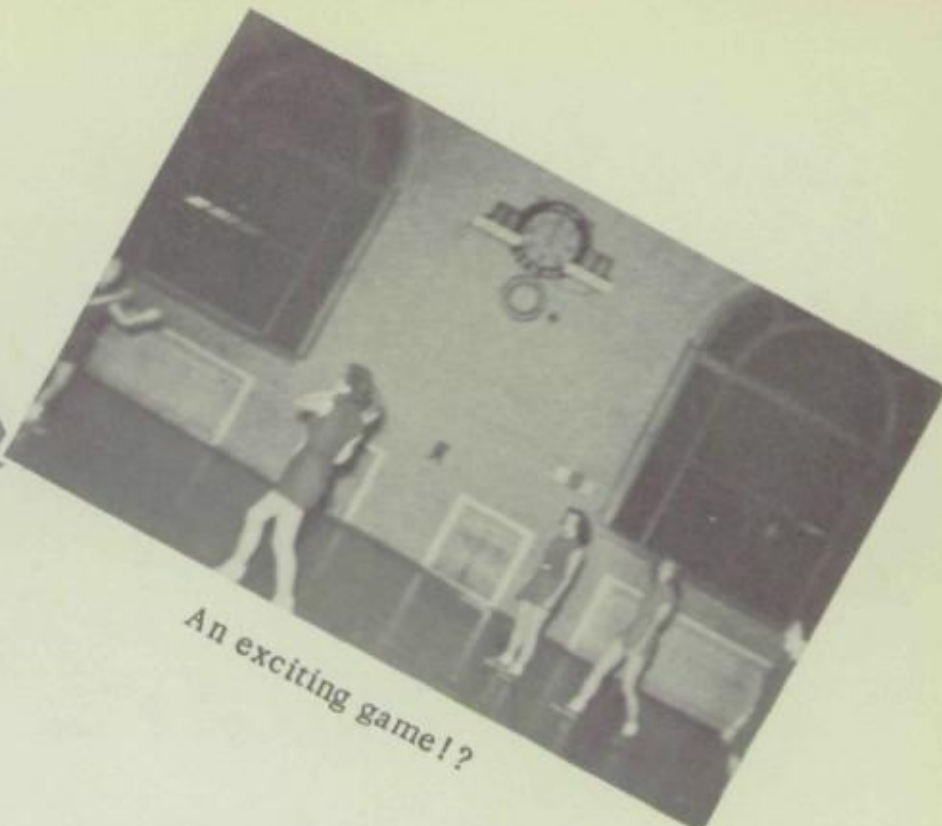

What, no guards?

Scramble for the goal line!

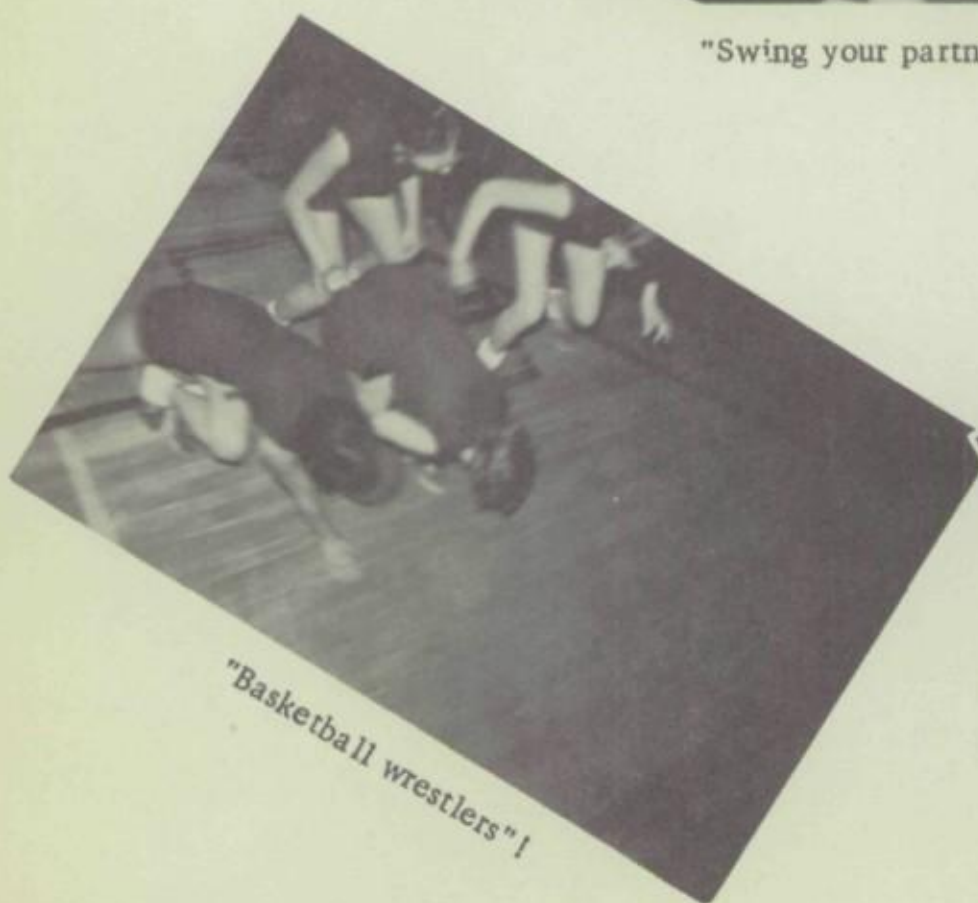

A new twist to hockey!

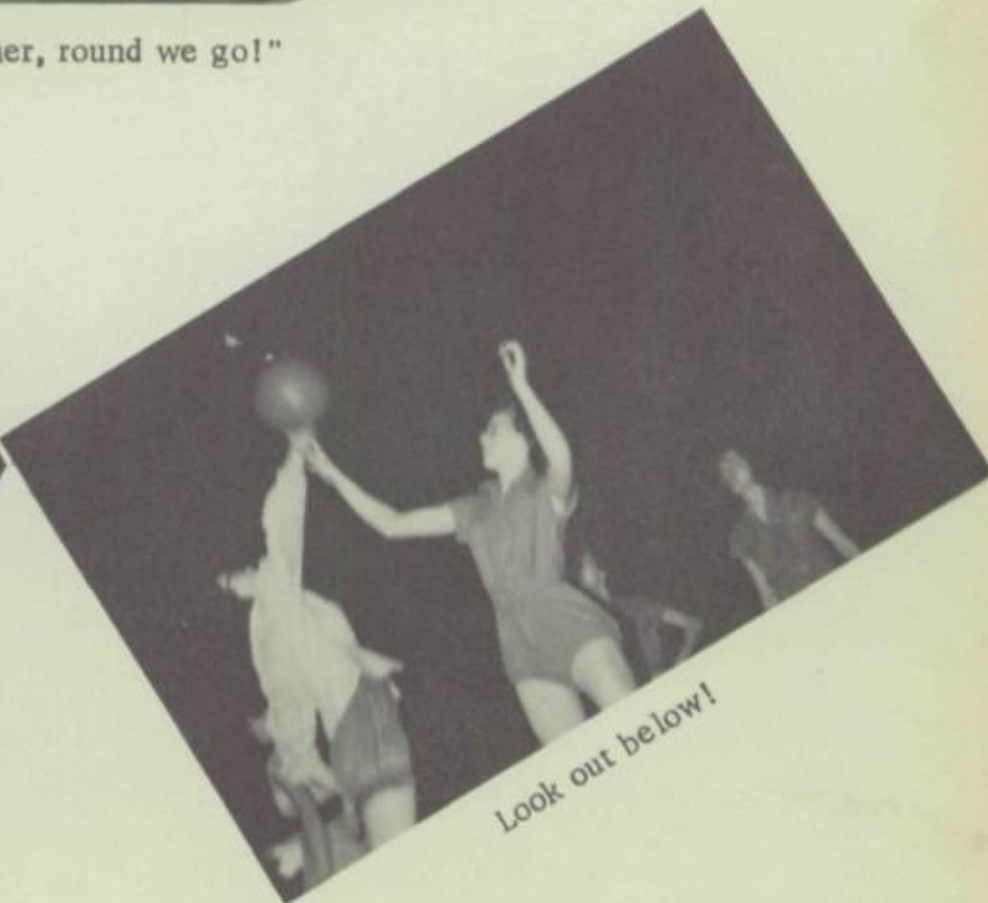

An exciting game!?

"Swing your partner, round we go!"

"Basketball wrestlers"!

Look out below!

BASEBALL

BACK ROW: Robert Sells, manager; Clyde College, manager; Fred Goudy, Ira Light, Ralph Lehman, Don Clark, Robert Kapp, Delbert Kohr, Larry Englebach, manager.

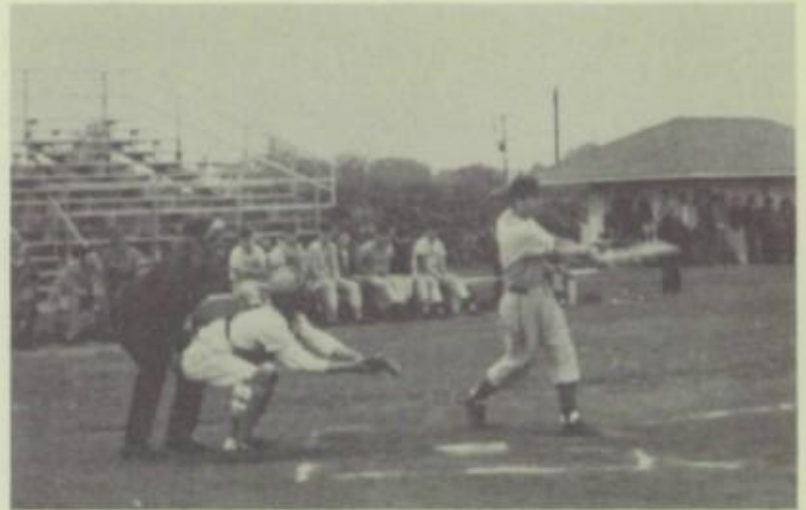

Russ scores again!

Another great save by Ken!

Fred's pitching form.

A hit for John!

The baseball team compiled a fine record of five wins and three losses in a strong Lebanon County League. The breaks went against them, however, as they lost two games in the late innings by only one run.

The Palms had a chance to tie Annville for the championship but were defeated by the Dutchmen 2-1 in an eight inning affair.

Don Clark, a sophomore, was the mainstay on the pitching staff as he won three games and pitched great ball throughout the entire season, Russ Teahl, the leading hitter on the squad, climaxed four years of varsity ball by receiving the Dick Fidler Baseball Award, which is given to the most valuable player. Teahl, Firestone, Shenk, and K. Lehman completed their high school baseball careers.

Under the supervision of Walter Peters and James Mohr, the track team molded into excellent shape and enjoyed a fairly successful season.

In the early stages of the season the Palms encountered rough competition as they lost to Susquehanna, Annville, Hershey-Hummelstown, Wilson, and Middletown while defeating only North Lebanon. However, in the Lebanon Relay Carnival the Palms won the Lebanon County 880 yard relay.

In the Lebanon County track meet Palmyra was nosed out by Annville in a contest that was not decided until the final event. Glenn Bashore led all scorers as he placed first in the broad jump and 880 yard run and second in the 440 run. John Yohn set a new county record in the shot put and Tom Grumbein won the 220 yard run.

In the District meet Yohn took first honors in the shot put while Bashore finished second in the 440. At the State meet Palmyra was well represented as Yohn placed second and Bashore fourth in their respective events.

Glen Bashore closed out his high school track career in the state meet. He won the county 880 yard run three years in a row and was a consistent point-getter in all meets.

CLASS SONG

Words and Music
by Nancy Grace

One day in nine-teen for-ty two, On one Sept-em-ber day,
At last we en-tered Jun-ior High, An at-mos-pHERE quite new,
We wish to thank the fac-u-l-ty For all that they have done.

All ready to start our days in school we set out on our way.
Ac-tiv-ities, home-work, sports, and clubs; There was so much to do.
They've pa-tient-ly helped us through the years; We thank them, ev'ry-one.

Six years were spent in grade school; six years of work and play.
Now sud-den-ly we real-ize The time has come to part,
And now at grad-u a-tion We val-ue all the more

We learned to read and write and count, made man-y friend-ships gay.
But P. H. S. will al-ways hold A spot with-in each heart.
The friends we've made and the joys we've shared-The Class of Fif-ty-Four.
